About Dana Stabenow

Dana Stabenow (born March 27, 1952) is an American author who has produced works in the science fiction, mystery, and suspense/thriller genres.

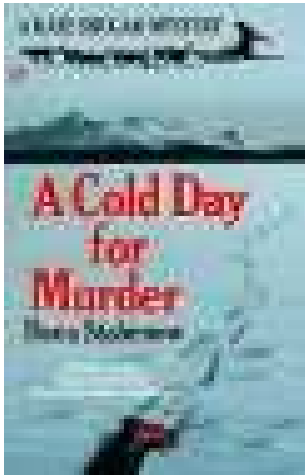

Many of Stabenow's books are set in her home state of Alaska, where she was raised by her single mother who lived and worked on a fish tender in the Gulf of Alaska. Stabenow received a B.A. in Journalism from the University of Alaska in 1973 and, after deciding to try her hand as an author, later enrolled in UAA's MFA program.

Dana Stabenow, award-winning author of the Kate Shugak mysteries, the Liam Campbell mysteries, and three science fiction novels, also writes an acclaimed column for Alaska magazine. She lives in Anchorage, Alaska, where she was born and raised.
